1       knocked unconscious?

2       A     Yes, she was.

3       Q     When she awoke, did she realize that she had
4       the perpetrator's phone in her hand?

5       A     Yes, she did.

6       Q     Now, police found blood on the cell phone,
7       right?

8       A     Yes.

9       Q     And a DNA sample was gathered from that lab,
10      right?

11      A     Yes.

12      Q     Okay. All right. The next thing that I want
13      to talk to you about: that cell phone that was found,
14      did your office work with the F.B.I. to trace the cell
15      phone?

16      A     Yes, we did.

17      Q     In particular, the cell phone was linked to a
18      company by the name of See Works Solutions (phonetic)
19      in Emigsville, Pennsylvania?

20      A     Yes. That's correct.

21      Q     And did a representative from this company
22      See Works say that the -- they're basically a Nextel
23      repair shop.

24      A     Yes, they are.

25      Q     Now, when this company would repair Nextel

1 Q And when that stocking was sent to the New
2 Jersey State Police Laboratory, it turned out that
3 there was a match, right?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And I guess before we get into the match,
6 before -- after you had gotten Elmo Rivadeneira's name
7 from the investigation into the cell phone and you
8 found out about Lauren Teicher, you had learned that
9 the blood from the cell phone from the New York City
10 incident that you testified about matched with the DNA
11 from the stocking, right?

12 A Yes.

13 Q But after you had the name Elmo Rivadeneira
14 from the Lauren Teicher cell phone investigation, you
15 obtained a buccal swab from Elmo Rivadeneira, right?

16 A Yes, we did.

17 Q And it turned out that with respect to that
18 DNA, Elmo Rivadeneira could not be excluded as a
19 contributor to the DNA profile.

20 A That's correct.

21 Q And the DNA profile that was obtained
22 basically is a DNA profile that occurs only in a very 23 limited -- very limited percentage of people. And in 24 particular, I'm going to go over this report here. The 25 New Jersey State Police Laboratory, they analyzed a
